INFORMATION DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Sir:

Enclosed herewith, please find Form PTO-1449 (Modified) pertaining to the above-identified application. A copy of each of the publications listed thereon (References AV-AW) is enclosed.

This Fifth Information Disclosure Statement ("IDS") supplements the Fourth Information Disclosure Statement filed on September 20, 2004, and is submitted to address an issue raised by the Examiner regarding the meaning of the terms "multifactorial" and "nonspecific cells." While Applicant believes that it has used such terms properly and that one skilled in the art would fully comprehend the meaning of such terms, dictionary definitions are included to further acquaint the Examiner with such terms as they are used in the medical arts.

As will be noted from References AV and AW, "multifactorial" and "nonspecific" are adjectives that denote qualities and characterizations of cells.

DOCKET NO. 1000-10-CO1

"Multifactorial" means: "involving or depending on several factors or causes (especially pertaining to a condition or disease resulting from the interaction of many genes)"

"Nonspecific" means: "...undestined, undetermined, undifferentiated..."

It is clear from a reading of the patent application, the qualities and characteristics of multifactorial and nonspecific cells can be found in cells such as: stem cells, germinal cells, and pluripotent cells.

No one skilled in the art would question that a fundamental property of all of these cells is that they are undifferentiated.

Also, no one skilled in the art would question that the state of being known as "pluripotent" permits a cell to be capable of affecting more than one organ or tissue. A cell's capability to affect more than one tissue or organ involves or depends upon several factors or causes and can result from the interaction of many genes.

This IDS is being submitted in an effort to reduce the number of issues in the instant application and thereby expedite the prosecution thereof.

No fee is believed to be due because Applicant and Applicant's attorney were not aware of such patent more than three (3) months prior to this submission. A certification including such facts is enclosed.

Respectfully submitted,

Date: October 21, 2004
